Hidden Alphabet

Find the letters hiding in this picture. Color each letter a bright color to make it come to life. Look carefully to find every letter of the alphabet!

S

Read the poem with a parent!

Circle each S that you see.

Sally sells seashells
by the seashore.
The shells Sally sells are from the sea I'm sure.

S

How many S's did you find?

AND THEN WHAT HAPPENED?

Read the story and predict what happens next!

A space mission from Earth landed on a faraway planet named Boggo. As the astronaut began exploring the rocky planet, he heard what sounded like two people talking. Confused, he walked closer to the source of the noise. It seemed like the conversation was coming from behind a giant rock. He picked up the large rock and was amazed at what he saw: two little green aliens!

What do you think happened next? Write the end of the story here.

Who do you think was more surprised, the astronaut or the aliens?

What do you think the two aliens were talking about before they were discovered?

What would you do if you were the astronaut?

Pizza, Pizza...Come and Get It!

- 1) Read the opinion below.
- 2) Then, write one reason in each box supporting the opinion.
- 3) When done, reread the opinion and your reasons.
- 4) Raise your hand to let your teacher know you're done.

*Usually found at the end of a story.

Directions: Read the passages and complete the chart.

	Problem	Solution
   1. A Package at the Door On Friday afternoon, the doorbell rang. Ricky ran to the front door to see if his package arrived. He was so excited that he threw open the door. He didn't even think about his dog, Shadow. Shadow darted out the door. He was down the street in a blink of the eye. Luckily, the mailman noticed the dog as it sprinted past him. The mailman chased after Shadow, grabbed his collar, and walked him back to Ricky. Phew, that was close!
   2. Basketball Practice Blues Garrett and Jeffrey took turns at the hoop practicing their free throws. Usually Garrett sunk his free throw shots with no trouble, but something was off today. He had not made a single shot. Jeffrey was on fire, though! He made every single free throw shot from the line. Coach McElroy noticed and came to talk to Garrett. "If you adjust your feet," he said, "your shot will go straight." To Garrett's surprise, he made the rest of his free throws!
   3. Report Card Time Maci knew she had earned some good grades and some bad grades. Even though Maci knew her parents would be disappointed, she always followed the rules. She would give them the report card when she got home. When she arrived home, she realized that the report card was not in her binder when she got off the bus. She must have lost it somewhere! Instead of panicking, she made a plan. Maci decided to talk to her teacher about it the next day. Her teacher thanked her for being responsible. She printed Maci a new report card to take home. The teacher even put it in a special envelope.

It was a quite sunday afternoon, and my brother, Henry, and I were playing video games. All of a suddenly we heard a loud CRASH in the kitchen. we both jumped in suprize and dropped our controllers. "Mom," henry called, "was that you " No one answered. We looked at each other and shrugged. "It was probly just a dish that fell off the counter," I said Henry nodded and picked up his controller. "Come on," he grinned, "I'm going to beet you!" I picked up my controller and laffed, "bring it on!"

A VERY DIFFERENT RAMADAN

MUSLIMS across the US are having to go the virtual route for Ramadan this month.

Those who observe the holiest month in Islam around the world can't have food and drink every day from sunrise to sunset during Ramadan. But Covid-19 is also robbing millions of Muslims across the US from getting together for prayers, iftar and other Ramadan customs.

Normally, Mosques host daily free iftar (the meal eaten after sunset). They also host fundraisers and other get togethers as part of the celebration.

GRETA LENDS A HAND

GRETA Thunberg has teamed up with UNICEF for a new campaign to help protect vulnerable kids affected by coronavirus.

The environmental activist is giving UNICEF the $100,000 prize money she received from the Human Act Award 2020 for inspiring climate action.

Money raised by the campaign will go towards UNICEF's emergency work to fight the coronavirus, including providing soap, masks, gloves, protective equipment, life-saving information and other healthcare, as well as educational supplies for children in more than 190 countries.

BAREFOOT BETTER?

A NEW study says that modern running shoes are actually doing more harm than good.

The research, published in the British Medical Journal, suggests we might all be better off running barefoot rather than using certain types of trainer.

It concludes that we were much less likely to get hurt before cushioned running shoes became all the rage.

Led by Dr Peter Francis of Leeds Beckett University, the study found that a staggering 35-50% of runners are injured at any one time.

CELEBRATING SPACE HEROES

A NEW app has been released that allows you to "meet" women who have led the way in space science.

Called Reach Across the Stars: A Universe of Explorers, it's a free augmented reality (AR) app developed entirely by women at the US space agency NASA and the Smithsonian Institution.

The app also features a 3D journey to Mars, which sounds like a much safer way to visit the Red Planet!

CORONA HAIR

MARTHA Apisa and Stacy Ayuma are two friends living in the Kibera slums, the largest in Nairobi, Kenya.

They have braided their hair to look like the coronavirus and spread awareness of the disease.

RWANDA CLIMATE PLAN

RWANDA has become the first African nation to send a plan to the United Nations to fight climate change.

Rwanda, which is also the least-developed nation to have come up with a climate plan, is aiming to reduce emissions by 16% in the next ten years.

Rwanda's environment minister Jeanne d'Arc Mujawamariya said: "Our country is already counting the cost of climate change. With this new climate action plan, we have a clear roadmap to limit our already low emissions."

THE remains of more than 60 mammoths have been discovered under the site of a new airport in Mexico.

Archaeologists said the bones dated back around 15,000 years. The area used to be under a lake and researchers found traps for hunting mammoths at the site last year.

DREAMS OF GOLD

TWO brothers in France got a surprise when they were building a den for their garden and found 2kg of gold!

The pair used their late grandmother's bedsheets for the den but, when they unfolded them, two large objects fell out. A local auctioneer said they were gold bars worth £35,000!

LEGO BEEHIVE

A BEEKEEPER in Ireland has spent lockdown building a beehive out of LEGO.

The fully-working, colourful hive is now home to 30,000 bees. Ruairi O'Leocháin, a schoolteacher and wildlife activist, said that he had the idea before the coronavirus outbreak, and built his hive by measuring everything against a real beehive he had beside him while he was working.

BIG BIT BOOST

A TEAM of researchers in Australia say they have recorded the fastest ever internet speed.

They claim to have logged a data speed of 44.2 terabits per second, enough to download 1,000 movies in less than a second!

HOUSE OF CARDS

A TEENAGER has recreated Burj Khalifa, the world's tallest building, with cards.

Vishnu Vasu, 16, from Bangalore in India, used 5,450 playing cards to build the 3.25m-high structure. It took him five-and-a-half hours of patience and steady hands.

Vishnu got into the Asia Book of Records for his incredible card tower, but he's still got a way to go before he beats the Guinness World Record.

RHINO EVACUATION

RANGERS and government officials in Botswana are relocating black rhinos living in the Okavango Delta, to keep them safe from poachers.

Poachers attacked and killed six black rhinos in March. Rangers are worried that the falling number of safari trucks and visitors to the area is giving poachers more opportunities to find the rhinos.

Botswana's Ministry of Environment, Natural Resources Conservation and Tourism thinks that evacuating the remaining black rhinos to a secret location is the best option.

FOOTBALL RETURNS

FOOTBALL matches in South Korea resumed last week – the first league to kick off again after being suspended due to COVID-19.

The K-League season was meant to start in February but it was delayed because of coronavirus. South Korea's government followed World Health Organization advice, operating a large-scale system of testing for the virus. This has helped them keep the number of infections down, so their football league was allowed to start this month.

CATS IN CARDBOARD TANKS

THE coronavirus has seen people helping each other the world over.

It has also seen people getting really bored. And when people get bored, they get creative. With this in mind, we present to you... cats in cardboard tanks!

It's a new trend with people using leftover boxes to make tanks for their feline friends – and the pictures have gone viral.

WORLD NURSES DAY

12 May was International Nurses Day. In this picture, more than 100 nurses from Wuhan in China, where COVID-19 began, make a heart to celebrate.

STORY OF SURVIVAL

IN 2015, at the age of only 16, Nujeen fled her home in Syria and travelled 3,500 miles in her wheelchair to safety in Germany.

Born with cerebral palsy and with her family unable to afford a school that was suitable for her, she spent most of her childhood at home in her flat, where she learned English by watching television. After war forced her family to flee, Nujeen survived the dangerous journey to Europe – including crossing the sea in a rubber dinghy.

Now 21 years old, she has brought out a book about her experiences, called The Girl From Aleppo, and is giving talks around the world.

HERO HOUND

MEET Bear, the rescue dog who's saved more than 100 injured koalas in Australia.

Hundreds of koalas are at risk of dying in Australia after wildfires destroyed vast parts of their habitat. But Bear is here to help!

The five-year-old Australian koolie, who was abandoned as a pet, works with the International Fund for Animal Welfare and is able to sniff out injured koalas in the bush. When he finds one, he sits next to it and waits for his handler to come and help rescue the animal.

SNEAKER RECORD

A pair of Michael Jordan's autographed Nike Air Jordan 1 sneakers, worn by the basketball star in 1985, have sold for a record $560,000 (£463,000) in an online auction.

The previous record was $437,500 (£358,900) for a pair of Nike's 1972 Moon Shoes.

BUMPER CAR BAR

A BAR in America is trying out a fun and slightly crazy way to reopen while keeping distance between customers because of coronavirus.

The Fish Tales bar and grill in Maryland has created bumper tables – tables on wheels with big rubber rings around them. Customers have a circular table for food and drink, wheels to move and socialise, and a protective bumper to stop anyone getting too close!

ROBOT TOUR GUIDE

ONLINE virtual tours have been taking place with A RakuRo self-driving robot at the Chiba Zoological Park in Tokyo, Japan.

The zoo, which is closed right now, held an online event where children quarantined at home because of the coronavirus could virtually tour the zoo through a remote-controlled robot with a 360° camera.

Help your children make sense of the world in which they're growing up with First News – the world's largest newspaper for kids.
