Fancy dress competition : co-story reading

It was annual day next week for Bheem and his friends at school. All the children were involved in different activities and competitions. Bheem and Raju had a dance-off; Chhutki and Jaggu had a singing competition; Kalia and Dholu-Bholu had a play competition. All the children performed really well. In the dance-off, Bheem won, in the singing competition, Chhutki won, and in the play competition, Dholu-Bholu won.

It was time for the children to rehearse for the fancy dress event held at the end of the annual day programme. Bheem became superman, Raju became flash, Jaggu became green lantern, Chhutki became wonder woman, Kalia became batman, and Dholu-Bholu became aquaman and cyborg.

As the children were lining up for their places in the event, nobody could find Kalia. As everyone went around searching for him, Raju found him sitting and crying in a corner. "What happened, Kalia?" asked Raju. "I am feeling very sad that I lost the play competition and now, I am scared to perform anymore," said Kalia, crying. "Come on, Kalia. Cheer up!" said Raju. "Even I lost in the dance-off against Bheem. But, I know I can win next time!" said Raju.

Kalia looked at Raju with surprise and asked, "You're not sad you lost?" "No! It was fun dancing, and it doesn't matter who wins or loses," said Raju, happily. "And anyway, the fancy dress event is not a competition. So why are you scared?" asked Raju. "Yes, that's right. Okay, let's go!" said Kalia, cheering up.

When Raju and Kalia came back and stood in their places, the fancy dress event was given a standing ovation! Raju went to Kalia after the rehearsal and said, "See, Kalia? We should just perform the best we can and everything will be okay!" "Yes, I understand now," said Kalia, happily.

Tic tac toe

Bheem and Kalia are playing tic tac toe. You can play this game with your friend and have fun! The game is played on a grid of 3x3, one player is X and another player is U. Players take turns putting their marks in empty squares. The first player to get 3 of marks in a row (up, down, across, or diagonally) finishes the game. When all 9 squares are full, the game is over. If no player has 3 marks in a row, the game ends in a tie.
